

Equal Representation. Elections should not be swayed in any way by news programs, and to call this documentary journalism is a serious misunderstanding of the term.

The fact is that this documentary is not meant to compare and contrast Bush and Kerry, it is purely meant to take votes away from Kerry by bringing up an old subject. There is no fairness in requiring stations to play this, and that is obvious.